

Each member of our team is available to meet one-on-one with faculty who would like to discuss their teaching and advising strategies.

Academic Mentoring and Coaching

Tina Chong supports students, staff, and faculty who want to work on time management, motivation, goal setting, managing research and projects, test anxiety, and/or reading.

Contact Tina Chong

Academic Communication with Multilingual Speakers

Lisa Flanagan offers writing, presentation, and teaching consultations with multilingual faculty and staff, and can advise multilingual visiting and tenure track faculty as they prepare materials for publication.

Contact Lisa Flanagan

Faculty Development

Kathryn Byrnes is available to meet with faculty about course and syllabus design, inclusive and anti-racist pedagogy, student learning assessments, contemplative pedagogy, mid-semester course feedback, and ways to support students.

Contact Kathryn Byrnes

Quantitative Reasoning

Eric Gaze focuses on quantitative reasoning, quantitative literacy, QR assignments and QR-related course design.

Contact Eric Gaze

Writing

John Paul Kanwit manages the Writing Center and consults with faculty on designing writing assignments and writing courses—including First-Year Writing Seminars and Writing Project Courses.

Contact John Paul Kanwit